

CHALLENGE ADVENTURES
PERSONAL CLOTHING AND EQUIPMENT LIST
FALL AND SPRING IN THE MOUNTAINS
TWO AND THREE DAY TRIPS

Sometimes it can get cold in the fall and spring summer in the mountains. The temperatures in the daytime can be between 40 degrees and 80 degrees. At nighttime, the temperatures can be between 20 degrees and 45 degrees. It is usually around 60 degrees during the day and 35 degrees at night. It may also rain, and when it does, it really rains! So good rain is important. To be sure that you are warm, safe and comfortable, here are the things you need to bring. The list includes what you are wearing. If you need to buy any of the clothes on the list, the best place to look first is a thrift store, like the Salvation Army. The llamas will carry your sleeping bag and ground pad, but you'll need to carry your clothes and personal items, so pack light!

CLOTHES

Three pair of socks. Wool is best, because it keeps you warm even when it is wet.

Sturdy walking shoes or hiking boots that are broken in. The three important things are ankle support, non-skid soles and keeping your feet dry. So if you can't get anything else, try to borrow a pair of hiking boots from someone or wear sports shoes that come up to your ankle.

Rain gear - ponchos and rainsuits are best. If you use the thin, inexpensive ponchos, from places like K-Mart, get two, because they tear easily.

Two t-shirts

A warm, long sleeve shirt

One pair of loose corduroy or quick dry pants

One set of long underwear

One pair of shorts

Pajamas or something similar to sleep in

Soft-soled camp shoes, like flip-flops, to wear around camp or to put on if your shoes get wet

Three pair of underwear

Two bandannas to keep the sun off your neck, the sweat out of your eyes and other useful things

A hat with a brim

A fleece or other warm jacket

Ear protection, like earmuffs

Gloves
